Presentation Descriptions

Plenary – 9:30-11:30AM

“Making the Implicit Explicit” by Mary Vicario, Med., LPCC-S and Marian Stuckey, MBA, MSW, LISW-S

Research demonstrates that toxic stress disproportionately affects individuals in marginalized communities. Join us as we explore the many intersections of our identity and how they impact us in multiple life domains. We will explore resilience based, trauma responsive, actions and ways of being that help develop cultural humility and resilience by identifying and addressing the unseen messages we all live with driving implicit bias and stereotype threat.

Breakout Session 1 – 12:30-2PM

A – “Recovery and Relapse Prevention” by Gretchen Clark Hammond, PhD, MSW, LSW, LCDCIII, TTS

Recovery from a substance use disorder is a process that evolves over time with significant gains related to health, home, community, and purpose. Understanding the stages of recovery, along with the core components of relapse prevention is imperative for professionals working with persons in treatment and persons in early recovery who may be engaged in the child welfare system.

B – “Engaging Fathers and Strengthening Families Involved in Child Welfare” by Muqit A. Sabur from the Ohio Practitioners’ Network for Fathers and Families (OPNFF) and Joshua Counciller from Ohio Commission on Fatherhood

Historically, the child welfare system has not engaged fathers to the extent that it could, but healthy father involvement can serve as a protective factor to strengthen families. Studies have highlighted the benefits of father involvement for child safety and well-being such as higher likelihood of reunification, less time in foster care and lower likelihood of subsequent maltreatment allegations. Engaging and supporting fathers can lead to positive outcomes for their child’s development, but there are various barriers fathers face that contribute to their ability to engage in meaningful and consistent ways. This presentation will discuss strategies to address and remove these barriers; presenters will provide strategies practitioners can use to successfully engage fathers to strengthen families.

C – “Trauma & Addiction Part 1” by Mary Vicario, Med., LPCC-S and Marian Stuckey, MBA, MSW, LISW-S

Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) and Compounding Adverse Toxic Stressors’ (CATS) research demonstrates that trauma has become the epidemic beneath the epidemic of addiction. This lively and interactive training guides you through the effects of drug exposure, addiction and trauma on the brain, body and behavior. This training will also help you recognize and address addiction and trauma’s impact. It explores the resilience hidden in survival skills and how to pull this resilience forward to help people create the life they want instead of recreating the life they came from. These same resilience factors will be used to help those of us doing this work address the effects of vicarious traumatization.

*Participants must sign up for both Part 1 & Part 2 of “Trauma & Addiction” to receive full credit.

Breakout Session 2 – 2:15-3:45PM

A – “Medical Marijuana in Ohio” by Sharon Maerten-Moore, JD, Director of Medical Marijuana Operations, State of Ohio Board of Pharmacy

Through the Ohio Medical Marijuana Control Program (MMCP), qualified patients can purchase and use medical marijuana. Attendees will learn about the structure and history of the MMCP, how patients qualify for the program, and general rules regarding how patients can remain compliant with criminal and other laws while utilizing medical marijuana.

B – “Facilitation and Engagement Strategies for Effective Shared Decision-Making Meetings” by PCSAO and CFF

In START, the initial shared decision-making meeting (SDMM) engages families in the change process and promotes collaboration, commitment to outcomes, and overall buy-in. In this workshop, PCSAO and CFF will present a real-life demonstration of the initial SDMM. Participants will take part in a facilitated discussion of the participant roles, engagement strategies, and key meeting elements. This demonstration will provide session participants with strategies for facilitation and participation in the initial shared decision-making meeting SDMM.

C – “Trauma and Addiction Part 2” by Mary Vicario, Med., LPCC-S and Marian Stuckey, MBA, MSW, LISW-S

Description same as part 1.

*Participants must sign up for both Part 1 & Part 2 of “Trauma & Addiction” to receive full credit.
